

Gonçalo has a degree in Veterinary Nursing by Instituto Politécnico de Bragança. After his internship at Hospital Veterinário Central (a referral hospital), in 2010, he worked there for more 4 years. In Hospital Veterinário Central, he started to practice emergency attendings and the continuous monitoring with critical care and emergency blood analysis. And that was how the challenge within this area developed.

Since 2014 he works in VetOeiras hospital. Besides the continuous focus in emergency's area, he also has growed its interest and skills in cytologies.

In 2017 he completed his Nurse Certificate in Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care by VetsNow.

In parallel with his professional activity in the hospital, he has already been lectured in several congresses and conferences dealt by Veterinary Nursing Faculties. Due to these contacts with Faculties, he has established protocols between these entities and VetOeiras, being the person in charge of Veterinary Nursing internships in the hospital.

In 2020 he also completed the title of rescuer by RECOVER Initiative.
