

Dr. Lenio Ribeiro has been a veterinary since 2000. He received his graduate degree in Veterinary Medicine from the University of Trás-os-Montes e Alto Douro (Portugal) in 1999 and his Doctorate degree from the University of Leon (Spain) in 2013. His research and specialization are focused on monitoring of anaesthetic depth. He is currently an assistant professor at the Universidade Lusófona de Humanidades e Tecnologias (Portugal). He is also one of the owners of the Centro Hospitalar Veterinário (Porto, Portugal) where he is the responsible for the services of anaesthesia, emergency and intensive care.